ITALIAN IS ROBBED OF NATIVE MONEY

Verzi Antonino Is "Bunked" Out of $90 by Strangers.

Verzi Antonino, an Italian, reported to the police yesterday that two strangers had robbed him of $90 in Italian money and $10 in American bills. Antonino said that he met the strangers on Seventh street near Pennsylvania avenue, and that the conversation turned to money. He said that he had plenty of it, and the two strangers became interested. They, too, had money, according to Antonino, and it was decided to place all the funds in a bank for safe keeping.

All the funds, Antonino says, were placed in an envelope and handed to him. The strangers left, saying they would return in a few moments. After waiting more than an hour the Italian opened the envelope and found it stuffed with paper.

REFUSES TO KISS MOTHER AND LOSES HIS FREEDOM

Boy Charged with Vagrancy Given Another Chance by Judge, but Prefers to Be Locked Up in House of Detention.

Simon Krupshaw, a diminutive youngster, who, together with his friend, Lawrence De Bari, was in the juvenile court yesterday, charged with vagrancy, positively refused to kiss his mother when Judge De Lacy told him that by so doing he could earn his freedom.

"You're a bad boy," said Judge De Lacy. "You don't love your mamma, do you? If you did you wouldn't stay away from home at night."

"Sure I love her," interrupted little Simon.

"Then kiss her and tell her you are sorry for being a bad boy," directed the court.

Simon with a grin turned away from the judge and looked at the court full of people. He returned his gaze to the magistrate. "I'm too big for such doin's. Look at all these people, will you?"

WEDDED TO BELLE WHILE ON LEAVE

E. R. Woodson Marries Miss A. B. Galtney.

Eugene Robert Woodson, secretary to the controller of the Southern Railway Company here, took his annual vacation last week and, incidentally, took unto himself a bride. When he returned to his duties in this city the announcement of his marriage caused no end of surprise and explanations to his associates.

Mr. Woodson's home was formerly in Mississippi, and it was there that he met Miss Annie Brock Galtney, a charming society belle, some years ago. When Mr. Woodson went South on his leave the wedding was quietly arranged and the couple were married in Birmingham, Ala., where a brother of the bride lives. Mr. and Mrs. Woodson will reside at 2300 Thirteenth street northwest.

Police Nab Alleged Forger. Frank Keys, thirty-two years old, of 40 Florida avenue northwest, was arrested yesterday by Central Office Detectives O'Brien and Weedon, on a charge of forgery. It is alleged that Keys forged the name of B. H. Warner on a check for $11, payable at the Riggs National Bank, and attempted to have it cashed at a Seventh street store.

FARMER'S FAMILY NOW TOTALS 23

C. J. Mohler's Latest Addition Hasn't Teethed Yet.

MAY ALL VISIT THE CAPITAL

Virginian Will Need Special Car to Bring Wife and Twenty-one Children to Washington to See Sights—Elderly is Lad of Thirty-two and Has Tots of His Own.

Some day soon C. J. Mohler, a farmer of Centerville, Fairfax County, Va., is going to charter a special car and bring his wife and twenty-one children up to see the sights of the National Capital. Just when the trip will be taken depends upon the say-so of the twenty-first child, who arrived a day or two ago. As yet the youngest Mohler, who has not teethed yet, has given no statement on the question.

Farmer Mohler is not worried about the trip, however. What is worrying him is a suitable name for the child. The youngster's elder brothers and sisters have cobbled up pretty nearly all the handy labels in sight, and it looks like a Pullman car monicker for the newcomer.

At any rate, there is going to be some scurrying to find a suitable cognomen, and thus far theatrical programmes, Pullman car schedules, the family Bible, agricultural magazines, and the newspapers have been consulted to that end.

Elderly Lad Is Thirty-two. The eldest child is a lad of thirty-two. He and four of his brothers and sisters are married and have children. All the little Mohlers are still around Centerville.

"Pa" Mohler is the eldest of thirteen children. His parents are still living and are credited with fourteen great-grandchildren. In addition to scores of sundry other relatives. The high-cost-of-living problem does not bother the Mohlers. "Pa" says he likes to have children around the house, and the Missus agrees with him—with self-evident results.

It is related by Centerville folks that at the last census an enumerator passed by the Mohler house, thinking it was a school, because of the great number of children playing in the yard. Later he found out his mistake and went to the Mohler mansion.

"How many children have you?" the enumerator asked Mr. Mohler. "Let me see," said "Pa" Mohler, reflectively. He scratched his head a moment or two, and then turned to his spouse and said: "Say, Missus, what was the total of that census you took at dinner time, and is it correct to date?"

CAPT. H. L. STREET DEAD.

Veteran of Several Campaigns Succumbs in California.

Capt. Harlow L. Street, a veteran of several campaigns, and for more than thirty years a Washingtonian, died at 2:30 a. m. yesterday in Pasadena, Cal., where he had been ill since June.

Capt. Street was engaged in many battles of the civil war, and subsequent Indian campaigns. He came to this city in 1880, and during the Cleveland administration was appointed captain of the Capitol police force. During the Spanish-American war he was connected with the commissary department, with the rank of captain. After peace had been declared he remained in the service, and went to the Philippines, where he was engaged in a number of conflicts with the natives. Several years ago he was appointed to a clerkship in the office of the Auditor for the War Department. Because of ill health, he resigned last June.

Capt. Street is survived by four children, Dr. Harlow R. Street, 49 East Capital street; Mrs. William E. Burchard, 1450 Girard street northwest; Mrs. William E. Etkin, of Pasadena, and Mrs. Volney Lucas, of the same city. The funeral will be held in Pasadena.

THIRTY-SIX LACK JOBS.

Normal School Graduates Will Not Obtain Appointments.

Because there are not enough vacancies to accommodate all, thirty-six of the eighty-six Normal School graduates who were qualified to enter the public schools will be unable to obtain appointments regularly this year. The announcement was made yesterday afternoon by Dr. W. M. Davidson, superintendent of Schools.

Last season twenty young women were unable to obtain positions because of the lack of vacancies. As a result of the overflow of teaching material, it is probable the course at the Normal School will be made more difficult and entrance examinations will be required.

Hold Funerals for Fourteen. Rev. Simon P. W. Dwyer, pastor of Cosmopolitan Temple Baptist Church, and Rev. Alexander Wilbanks, president of Wilbanks Evangelical Industrial School, conducted funeral services over fourteen unclaimed bodies at the crematory of the morgue yesterday.

Independence Hive, No. 4, and District Hive, No. 8, of the Ladies of the Good Will, of the World last Monday night gave the order's beautiful ritualistic service, the drapery of the charter, in memory of Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, of Detroit, Mich., formerly supreme commander, and at the time of her death last Friday, acting past supreme commander.

Mrs. Hollister was an author, lecturer, educator, temperance missionary, and church worker. She was one of the foremost workers of the United States, being interested in many of the movements for the advancement of womanhood, and for the uplifting of humanity.

Mrs. Hollister was born and reared in Michigan. She traveled extensively in this country and abroad.

She was affiliated with the leading national and international movements among women, and was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Woman's Christian Temperance Union, National Council of Women, Woman's International and State Press Association, Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Order of the Eastern Star.

The Supreme Hive Review in session at Atlantic City last month, recognizing the invaluable service rendered by Mrs. Hollister in the cause of Macabeanism, took action to endow a room in a hospital of the home city of the past supreme commander, Detroit, Mich., which will be known as "The Lillian M. Hollister Hospital Service."

The Great Council of the United States of the Improved Order of Red Men will hold its sixty-fourth annual session in Cleveland, Ohio, with headquarters at the Hollenden Hotel, commencing Monday morning, September 11.

In addition to the addresses of welcome by the city officials, Grand Sire John B. Cochran, and George M. Hanson, of the Knights of Pythias, will deliver addresses before the Great Council. Hon. George E. Griggs, Mrs. Geo. Forstner,
